

Special Winter Group Offers

This winter, The Sanctuary is offering a special rate of $199 per night for groups of ten or more. This represents a savings of up to 28%.

The resort is also offering a rate for its private villas, starting with $99 per night for one-bedroom villas. A complimentary one-bedroom villa is available for every 25 villas occupied during your stay. The villa offer also provides complimentary meeting and event space, all on-island transportation and complimentary access to the resort's fitness center.

Both offers run from December 1, 2005, through February 28, 2006. They are based on availability and are not applicable to confirmed groups. They do not include applicable taxes and service charges.

Kiawah Island Golf Resort recently received Successful Meetings' Pinnacle Award for the seventh year.

PGA Double on the Horizon

The Alfred S. Bourne, left, and Wanamaker Trophy, right, will be up for grabs at the 2007 Senior PGA and 2012 PGA Championships respectively – both held on The Ocean Course (18th hole pictured)

Kiawah Island Golf Resort is now looking forward to holding two major championships on its famed Ocean Course.

Continuing a tradition of hosting historic golf tournaments that began with the dramatic 1991 Ryder Cup matches, The Ocean Course has been selected to host the 2012 PGA Championship, which is one of golf's traditional "majors." Last year, The Ocean Course was selected as the site of the 2007 Senior PGA Championship.

This 2012 PGA Championship will be the first of the four "major" golf championships to be played in South Carolina, and The Ocean Course will become only the fourth course to host the Ryder Cup (1991), the PGA Club Professional Championship (2005), the Senior PGA Championship (2007) and the PGA Championship (2012).

Since its origin in 1916, the PGA Championship has become one of the games most anticipated major championships, and perennially features the strongest field in golf. The PGA Champions roster featured many of the greatest players from all generations of golf – from Hagen, Sarazen, Snead, Nelson and Hogan to Nicklaus, Trevino, Woods and Singh.

"We are very excited and proud to be chosen to host the PGA Championship," says Roger Warren, President of Kiawah Island Golf Resort. "The Ocean Course will surely enhance the reputation of the PGA Championship and prove to be a challenging test for the greatest players in the world."

Special Events at The Sanctuary

The Sanctuary at Kiawah Island is holding a series of special event weekends during the first three months of 2006 that feature substantial savings on regular rates.

Second Annual Winter Art Show—January 20-22, 2006

The weekend package, held in conjunction with Art & Antiques magazine, includes a cocktail reception and a preview in the shopping promenade at The Sanctuary, a gallery tour of Charleston, art show admission and a reception – featuring works from renowned regional and national artists.

Second Annual Women's Escape Weekend—January 26-29, 2006

This “Escape” offers special programming, designed for women by women. It includes a variety of interactive workshops, recreational options and dinners. Speakers include Author Cassandra King, Dietician Carolyn O’Neil and Mary Norton, designer and owner of MOO ROO handbags.

Living in Balance Retreat—February 24-26, 2006

Dedicate the weekend to “living in balance.” Speakers include Dr. Ann Kulze, a nationally recognized author, physician and nutrition specialist; Barbara Close, author and founder of Naturopathica Holistic Health; Liz Mazurski, editor-in-chief of Spa magazine; and Martha Abbott, a movement therapy specialist.

Golf for Women Weekend—March 10-12, 2006

Join The Sanctuary and Golf for Women for a weekend of instruction, dining and casual golf rounds. Enjoy the oceanfront holes of Jack Nicklaus’ Turtle Point and the unique layout of Pete Dye’s Ocean Course. In addition, receive instruction top female instructors, including a Golf for Women “Top 50 Teacher.”

The Sanctuary's spa is one of the attractions for a series of upcoming special event weekends being held in 2006

About Kiawah Island Golf Resort

Address: 12 Kiawah Beach Drive, Kiawah Island, SC, 29455

Accommodations: The Sanctuary at Kiawah Island, a 255-room luxury hotel; 600 private villas and homes

Golf Courses: The Ocean Course (Dye), Osprey Point (Fazio), Turtle Point (Nicklaus), Cougar Point (Player), and Oak Point (Johnston)

Meeting Space: 37,000 square feet of meeting space, including 18,000 square feet at The Sanctuary.

Recreation: A variety of adult and children's activities, including kayaking and canoeing

Restaurants: Nine dining establishments, including The Ocean Room (at The Sanctuary) – oceanview fine dining; Jasmine Porch (at The Sanctuary), an elegantly casual dining restaurant; and Turtle Point Grill (at Turtle Point Golf Course), an all-American grill set in a casual club setting.

Spa: At The Sanctuary - 12 treatment rooms, sauna, steam room and whirlpool. Treatments based upon ocean, maritime forest and botanical gardens

Tennis: Two tennis clubs with 27 courts, and the number one ranked resort program in America.

Oceanfront guestroom at The Sanctuary